Constantinople Suffers

London, Aug. 24, 8:15 p. m.—The population of Constantinople considers the situation grave, according to information received at Sofia, Bulgaria, says a dispatch. Violent fighting has been in progress on the Gallipoli peninsula for the past week and it is declared thousands of wounded are arriving every day at Constantinople. At the same time thousands of fresh troops are being sent to the Dardanelles front. The scarcity of bread and coal is said to have added to the general feeling of depression.

London, Aug. 24.—Optimistic reports concerning operations on the Gallipoli peninsula have been in circulation for the past few days and prophecies are freely made that a few weeks will see the close of the allies' most difficult task in the Near East. The Turks, too, expect the Anglo-French forces to be successful, if news reaching Sofia from Constantinople is reliable.

In fact, it is felt here now that so far as the Dardanelles are concerned, it is a matter of indifference to the allies whether the Balkan states lend a hand. Their assistance is wanted, however, against Austria, and also to shorten Turkish resistance if the straits are opened. For these reasons, negotiations with the Near Eastern capitals are being watched with interest and the decision of Serbia on the proposals of the quadruple entente for satisfying the aspirations of Bulgaria, which will be reached at a council of ministers tomorrow, is anxiously awaited.

It is believed in London that Serbia's reply will prove satisfactory and that Bulgaria's cooperation will be assured. This would open the way also for an active policy on the part of Rumania, who wants assurances Bulgaria will not attack her before she commences to move her troops. It is confidently expected all these questions will be settled satisfactorily to the allies and that within the same period the future policy of Greece will be definitely announced.

In the meantime, Austro-German armies are aiming more heavy blows at Russia in the hope of putting her on the defensive indefinitely and permitting the removal of some of her own troops to other fronts, particularly Serbia and Italy, in hope of repeating their eastern successes.

While the Russians are falling back east and south of Kovno, it is explained by Petrograd that this was necessary to prevent them from being outflanked. They still hold banks of the Niemen river from Prens, just south of Kovno, southward to Grodno, one of the few fortresses held by them. On all sides the Russian army is being outflanked. They still hold banks of the Niemen river from Prens, just south of Kovno, southward to Grodno, one of the few fortresses held by them. On all sides the Russian army is being outflanked.

There has been heavy fighting in the Vosses without any change in the positions of the opposing armies.

To Straighten Out Game Law.

Austin, Aug. 24.—In order to straighten out apparent inconsistencies in the old and new game law regulating the killing of game, W. W. Wood, game fish and oyster commissioner, has requested the attorney general's department for an opinion. This opinion is expected to be given some time during the present week, as the game season opens on September 1.

SUMMARY OF WAR

Although the Russians in Southeast Poland continue to oppose strenuously the advance of the Teutonic armies, both Berlin and Vienna report that their forces continue to make gains and the Muscovites are steadily falling back. This is especially true in the region of the Pulva river, where the Austrians had previously announced that they had given the Pulva river to the Russians. The fighting field Marshal von Mackensen's men inch by inch. Here, it is asserted, the Austro-German forces have crossed the Pulva and the Russians have evacuated their positions and are in retreat.

In the region of Brest-Litovsk the Germans have stormed a hill at Kopyt, southwest of the fortress and the Teutons are driving the Russians to the northwest of Vladova through the marshy country, according to Berlin.

British Financiers to Arrange Credit; Pay for Munitions

New York, Aug. 24.—Five British financiers, not three, as originally reported, probably will represent Great Britain in arranging a foreign credit here to meet bills for munitions and other supplies due American exporters according to advices said to have been received today by New York financiers from London.

It was considered possible that this deputation of five would discuss the issuance of "joint" credit to Great Britain, France and Russia, but bankers here declined to discuss this eventuality until after the arrival of the London financiers in New York. It is believed that the deputation will sail on American steamer St. Paul, due to depart tomorrow from Liverpool, but this is not definitely known. It is believed here that Sir Edward Holden and Sir Felix Schuster, named in the original report, from London, would represent the joint stock banks of London at the loan conference and that a third representative of these banks would accompany them. The other two members of the deputation will represent the British treasury department.

U. S. Troops Refuse to Let Obregon's Party Cross River

Laredo, Aug. 24.—An illustration of the strict guard maintained at the international bridge can be seen in the refusal of the United States troops to admit part of the entourage of General Obregon into Texas. The party, consisting of two officers, General Obregon's stenographer and a Carranzista telegraph operator, were turned back at the international bridge when they attempted to cross. They are said to be waiting for the arrival of the family of General Obregon in Nuevo Laredo from Sonora.

Newport, Arkansas, Appeals for Aid; Town Is Flooded

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 24.—The flooded town of Newport, Ark., with 5000 inhabitants, refugees and passengers on marooned trains, huddled in the few buildings that are free from flood waters, today sent an appeal for help to Little Rock.

The mayor of Newport, over the telephone, the only remaining means of communication, this afternoon declared the situation is becoming desperate.

The Little Rock Chamber of Commerce took prompt steps to furnish relief. A northbound iron mountain train due to leave at 4:30 p. m., was held in a hotel. The Chamber of Commerce rounded up enough canned goods to furnish 4000 people with two meals. This will be taken as far as possible by train and the remainder of the distance in motor boats. Another large consignment of food will be sent by the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow morning.

While the White river fell considerably today, the local weather bureau tonight issued a warning that it is likely to rise again as a result of last night's rains.

Would Have Money for Cotton Placed Through Local Banks

In order to find out exactly what Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo intends to do with the $300,000,000 to be used in helping move the south's cotton crop, W. W. Woodson, acting for First National Bank of Dallas, Texas, National banks, yesterday sent a telegram to Washington, suggesting that the money should be deposited in the interior banks and that the money is deposited in the federal reserve banks it was pointed out that the interior banks would have to pay 4 per cent for the money, which they could not afford to do.

The money is deposited in the federal reserve banks it was pointed out that the interior banks would have to pay 4 per cent for the money, which they could not afford to do. The purpose of the credit, say the bankers in their announcement, is to enable American exporters to be paid in dollars in the United States, eliminate any risk of exchange, and thus facilitating our exports. It will also enable French buyers of American merchandise and other commodities who have found it difficult owing to extraordinary conditions now prevailing to obtain exchange with which to settle their accounts with American merchants.

The credit is to be a period of one year and is to be available by draft at 90 days' sight. Care has been taken to comply with the requirements of our banking laws relating to commercial acceptances. In addition to the responsibility of the French drawers of the bill, the credit is secured by guarantee of the Banque of France, of payment at maturity in gold if necessary. Collateral is also deposited in New York as additional protection of the credit.

TENSE MOMENT IN CORONER'S INQUEST INTO FRANK'S DEATH

MARIETTA MERCHANT ON STAND HOLDS CROWD BREATHLESS AS HE TELLS OF SEEING MEMBER OF MOB STEP FROM AUTO AT SCENE OF MURDER.

USUAL VERDICT IS RENDERED

"Death at Hands of Parties Unknown" Says Jury—Next Step in Inquiry Into Affair Will Be Grand Jury Investigation September 1—Special Charge to Be Delivered.

Marietta, Ga., Aug. 24.—There was just one tense moment during the coroner's inquest here today into the lynching of Leo M. Frank. The jury rendered a verdict of death at the hands of "parties unknown," but it seemed at one time that there might be a disclosure which would materially have altered this finding.

The trial of the lynching party was nearly reached when J. A. Benson, a Marietta merchant, testified that he drove by the oak thicket while the cars of the "vigilance committee" were parked outside and presumably while the hanging was under way. Mr. Benson went so far as to say that he saw one or two of the men in the party step out of the cars in which they had ridden, stood covered, from the prison farm at Milledgeville.

The witness frankly stated that he had a pretty strong "suspicion" of what was taking place.

As Benson unfolded his story here was some sound in the big superior court room. The voice of Acting Solicitor John T. Dorsey framing the interrogations and that of Benson in reply.

There had been a pause of several seconds in the examination when Mr. Dorsey turned to the witness and very slowly asked:

"You say you saw at least one of the men step from one of the automobiles that had turned off the main road at the 'oak thicket'?"

Benson moved a little nervously in his chair.

"Yes, sir," he replied.

The acting prosecutor paused and then shot out:

"Who was he?"

"I do not know."

There was audible relaxation in all parts of the court room.

"You did not recognize anybody?"

"Nobody."

The next step in the Frank inquiry is expected to be taken when the grand jury meets at Marietta September 1. Judge Patterson of the Blue Ridge circuit will deliver a special charge and Solicitor General Herbert Clegg will take charge of the investigation.

Germany's Request.

New York, Aug. 12.—The text of the matter given out by Count von Bernstorff reads:

"The German ambassador received the following instructions from Berlin which he communicated to the department of state:

"So far no official information available concerning the sinking of the Arabic. The German government trusts that the American government will not take a definite stand at hearing only the reports of one side, which in the opinion of the imperial government, cannot correspond with the facts, but that a chance will be given to Germany to be heard equally. Although the imperial government does not doubt the good faith of the witnesses whose statements are reported by newspapers in Europe, it should be borne in mind that these statements are naturally made under excitement which might easily produce wrong impressions."

Hearing at Ft. Worth to Determine the Identity of Boy

Fort Worth, Aug. 24.—Hearing of the habeas corpus proceedings brought by E. C. Carrell against Mrs. Julia Delo of Quebec, to retain possession of Roy Carrell, who Mrs. Delo declares is her son, Tommy Delo, kidnapped from their home in Canada four years ago, will not be concluded in the Seventeenth district court here before Wednesday.

Mrs. Delo on the stand Tuesday said that her son when kidnapped had grey eyes and brown hair. The boy in dispute has brown eyes and blonde hair. Mrs. Delo asserts that these changes are natural and asserts the boy is her son. She also claims the boy is eight years old. Carrell declared he is six and one-half years old. Judge Terrell today instructed dentists to examine the boy's teeth to determine, if possible, his correct age.

The boy also was on the stand Tuesday and said he had been taken from the front porch of his home by Carrell and had wandered over the country with him.

Boys at Training School Inherit a Fortune of $100,000

Gatesville, Aug. 24.—In the State training school there are two brothers, Lincoln and Joe Schroeder, sent here from San Antonio who have been recalled by the San Antonio judge who passed the sentence.

The assistant probation officer from San Antonio is here to take the boys away. It is said that the boys are heirs to a fortune estimated at $100,000 in Mississippi and that they will be sent there to obtain their inheritance.

Serbia Will Reply to Allies' Proposals

London, Aug. 24, 9:10 p. m.—A Reuters dispatch from Nish says:

"It is not expected the Serbian reply to the proposals of the entente allies will be delivered for two or three days. The government has entered considerable opposition, but it is understood will be able to overcome the objections and agree with certain reservations to the proposals of the entente powers. A final decision will be reached tomorrow at an extraordinary council of ministers, at which King Peter will preside."

Bank Robbery at Amity, Arkansas

Amity, Ark., Aug. 24.—Two unmasked men held up Assistant Cashier E. W. Fincher, who was alone in the bank of Amity, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, forced him to put $1200, all the cash on hand, in a grain sack that they held open. Then they locked Fincher in the bank vault and rode out of town. From the vault Fincher aroused residents of the town by means of a burglar alarm. The townspeople exchanged several shots with the bandits, but none took effect. The men rode away in safety toward the Oklahoma line.

Dallas' Prettiest Girl Dies Suddenly

Dallas, Aug. 24.—Miss Mildred Mabry, 1818 Browder street, selected as one of the fifteen prettiest girls in Dallas for a contest to determine the prettiest girl to play the leading part in a movie scene which was to be used to advertise the Texas State Fair, died suddenly today at her home. Heart failure is given as the cause of the beautiful girl's death. She had been ill for several days and only yesterday was advised to go west for her mother's health. She was found gasping for breath and in a short time died. Burial will take place Wednesday afternoon.

Waco Woman Dies at Dallas. Dallas, Aug. 24.—Mrs. Martha J. Kelly, aged about 50 years, resident of Waco, died suddenly today in a Waco hotel. With her son-in-law, W. B. Bowling, she was returning to her home in Waco, after a visit to relatives in Oklahoma. The family had made the trip in Wagon. She died of heart failure and the body will be sent to Waco for burial.

UNITED STATES TO TAKE CHARGE OF HAITI'S FINANCES

TURBULENT LITTLE COUNTRY WILL NO LONGER BE LEFT TO ITS OWN RESOURCES—U. S. ASKS THAT GOVERNMENT TO SIGN TREATY FOR TEN YEARS.

ITS DEBTS ARE IN A MUDDLE

Action of America Is to Prevent Drastic Measures by European Creditors. United States Will Also See to Policing of the Island—Marines Are in Command.

Washington, Aug. 24.—Turbulent Haiti's new government has been asked by the United States to approve a convention under which for ten years the American government would administer the finances and supervise the policing of the island republic.

A draft of the proposal is before the Haitian congress, sitting at Port au Prince, where American marines have been maintaining order since the recent killing of President Guillaume by revolutionists. Officials here say the state department fixed no time limit upon consideration of its request, but it is admitted that Charge Duvivier, who presented the treaty draft, might have asked, as press dispatches state, that approval be given by noon tomorrow.

While the diplomatic branch of the United States government is working out a plan for future peace in Haiti's domestic life and foreign relations, the navy department is proceeding with preparations for an extended stay of its marines on the island. Rear Admiral Caperton, in command of the forces now occupying not only the capital but most of the principal towns and strategic points, has the situation so quiet with something over two thousand marines and bluejackets. He is to be reinforced immediately by the armored cruiser Tennessee with a battalion of 350 additional marines.

Now that action has become necessary, the Washington administration does not intend to leave Haiti to her own resources again until necessary steps have been taken to prevent a recurrence of the events of the last eight years, during which the little republic has had eight presidents—most of them successful revolutionists—has been in constant trouble with her foreign debts and has been unable to guarantee the safety either of her own people or of foreigners.

A high official of the administration explained today that the present period of reconstruction had been deemed the opportune time to press the proposed treaty and that the sole object was to place the Haitian people in charge of their own destinies. It was declared that ten years should suffice to give the islanders a realization of the advantages of permanent, honest government, free from revolutionary opposition by selfish politicians.

The late President Guillaume was asked to enter into such a treaty as now known, but he was so obsessed by fear of dominant military leaders who are reported to have threatened to kill him if he acceded. His successor, President D'Artigue, was elected by a narrow margin over the opposition of the revolutionists who had overthrown Guillaume.

These same revolutionists are expected to oppose strenuously the convention with the United States and it is confidently believed, however, that authorization for the signing of a treaty will be forthcoming promptly and that once this is done there will be little difficulty in having the terms outlined in the state department's draft.

The matter will be settled as expeditiously as possible. Officials think that only by placing Haiti's finances on a permanent and substantial basis can drastic action by some European creditor be avoided.

Haiti, the scene of frequent revolutions, has been torn by unusually violent internal dissensions of late, and when on July 27, following the execution of 150 political prisoners, President Vilbrun Guillaume was dragged from the French legation in Port au Prince and shot to death, American forces were landed to restore order. Since then continued disorders have resulted in the taking over by the United States navy of the administration of affairs in the principal cities.

GERMAN V. REGRETS THE SINKING OF STEAMER ARABIC

AMBASSADOR VON BERNSTORFF COMMUNICATES HIS INSTRUCTIONS TO STATE DEPARTMENT, ASKING TIME TO MAKE AN EXPLANATION.

TENSION IS GREATLY RELAXED

As Time Passed and There Was No Indication That Germany Would Make an Expression, Situation Was Approaching a Crisis—Lansing Refuses to Comment.

Washington, Aug. 24.—Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, communicated to the state department today instructions from his government expressing regret and sympathy if Americans lost their lives in the sinking of the liner Arabic and asking that the United States delay taking a definite stand in regard to the affair until Germany could be heard from.

This was the first word from an official German source concerning the Arabic, on which two Americans perished. Its receipt was followed by an evident relaxation of the tension which had been growing here as days passed with no indication of a desire on Germany's part to disclaim an intention of committing an act "deliberately unfriendly" toward the United States. No attempt was made either at the state department or the white house to interpret the ambassador's communication. Officials merely said that of course the American government would await the German explanation of the submarine commander in sinking the liner.

Count von Bernstorff telegraphed the state department from Berlin the text of his instructions from Berlin.

Secretary Lansing indicated he did not intend to reply to the ambassador's message at this time. He agreed to its publication with a statement that he had no comment to make.

The state department will continue compiling its evidence forwarded by Ambassador Page and the consular officers at Liverpool and Queenstown. So far only a synopsis of the affidavits of American survivors has been cabled, and Secretary Lansing says the department will give out no more of the reports until complete information is in hand. The texts of the affidavits have been mailed by Ambassador Page.

In connection with the German ambassador's communication today it was recalled here that three days after the sinking of the Lusitania the ambassador presented a note expressing the sympathy and regret of his government for the loss of American lives. There was no attempt, however, to deny that the Lusitania had been sent to the bottom with her passengers without warning and blame for the disaster was placed upon the British government, which permitted a vessel carrying contraband to sail with passengers including neutrals.

It was reported tonight that Count von Bernstorff expected to come to Washington shortly to discuss the situation personally with Secretary Lansing. Mr. Lansing said that he had no engagement with the ambassador, though he would be glad to see him at any time.

President Wilson and Secretary Lansing were in communication several times during the day. They conferred briefly after the department had sent the German ambassador's message to the white house. The usual cabinet meeting was not held today and it is expected that the situation growing out of the Arabic disaster will not be placed before the cabinet until the German explanation and all reports from Ambassador Page have been received and the president is ready to shape the course of the United States government.

Pen Commissioners Can't Come.

Austin, Aug. 24.—The penitentiary commissioners have advised members of the investigation committee of the senate that they will be unable to attend the hearing on the proposed bill to have been held for further consideration of the embodiment in the committee report of a recommendation to rehabilitate the Rusk furnace and foundry. An effort is now being made to set a date this week when the governor, prison commissioners and a delegation of citizens from Rusk and Palestine can meet with the senate committee.

U. S. Has No Man in View for President of Mexico

Washington, Aug. 24.—While still awaiting a reply from General Carranza to the Pan-American appeal for a peace conference in Mexico, the state department issued a statement today denying that the United States government had ever considered "any particular man for provisional president of Mexico."

The statement was prompted by inquiries from Mexico regarding reports that the Pan-American conferees had in view the suggestions of some particular Mexican leaders to head a provisional government. The name of Vasquez Tagle, who was minister of justice in the Madero cabinet, has been mentioned frequently and recently a report had been circulated that General Carranza's agents here said tonight that their chief's reply to the Pan-American appeal had been completed and soon would reach Washington.

PLAN FALLS COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SHOW

COMMITTEE AND CITIZENS MEET AT COMMERCIAL CLUB TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS.

Dates for Exhibit Are October 8 and 9—School Exhibits to Be Big Feature.

Marlin, Aug. 24.—This morning the agricultural committee and others interested met in the commercial club rooms and got down to making up the details for the holding of a big two days' merry-making show and educational exhibit to be held here October 8 and 9, which will be called the Falls County Agricultural Exhibit and Educational Rally. The show will be what the name implies, the first day being given to the showing of the agricultural triumphs of the farmers of this county, and the second day to the exhibits made by the industrial, agricultural and athletic departments of the various schools of the county.

Suitable prizes and premiums are being arranged for and it is expected the two days will bring many thousands to Marlin.

Those engineering the enterprise are B. B. Harris, agricultural instructor in the county high school; G. A. Pringle, county superintendent of public instruction; Rev. W. R. Hall and Messrs. C. H. Tisdale, J. H. Quick and A. H. Sneed.

Start Organizing Militia.

Marlin, Aug. 24.—Forty-nine men of the sixty-six enrolled met in the county courtroom Monday night to organize the Marlin militia company, but during the organization with the election of officers was let go over until next Monday, when it is expected that all who have signed for membership will be present, ready to vote for officers, all of whom, from captain down to tenth corporal, will be elected, thus making the company an actual democratic organization.

Mayor E. W. Bounds, the leading promoter of the company, made an enthusiastic talk in which he told the "boys" present what he conceived to be the purpose of such an organization, picturing to them the physical and social benefits to be obtained through regular drill exercise and their annual or semi-annual outings.

He told of experiences he enjoyed while a member of the state militia during the Spanish-American war, and declared it as his opinion that Marlin could very easily take first rank in the National Guard, as the proper military material was here in abundance.

Corn Brings 55 Cents.

Marlin, Aug. 24.—A number of loads of corn pulled to this market, were today brought to this market. The sale was slow, with 55 cents a bushel about the best price offered. Buyers contended that this was a good price on account of what they declared was the overweight of the grain because of the soaking rain through which it went last week.

County Attorney Returns.

Marlin, Aug. 24.—Tom Bartlett, county attorney, has returned from an auto-camping trip to the Medina, just west of San Antonio, where he was accompanied by Mrs. Bartlett. Mr. Bartlett says the Medina is the ideal camping and fishing spot.

EASTMAN COMPANY DECLARED MONOPOLY

ROCHESTER CONCERN MUST PRESENT PLAN FOR ABROGATION OF 'ILLEGAL' BUSINESS.

PROFITS OUT OF PROPORTION

Gains Are 171 Per Cent on Sales of Nearly Twenty-five Million Dollars.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 24.—The Eastman Kodak company of Rochester is a monopoly in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, according to a decision handed down here late today by Judge John R. Hazel, of the United States district court. The decision grants the defendant company an opportunity to present a plan for the abrogation of the illegal monopoly on the first day of the November term.

Judge Hazel, in his opinion, stated that while it appeared that no irreparable hardship would result from a separation of the present business into two or more separate companies it was not at this time intended to indicate either a dissolution, division or reorganization. He said, "It is not to be doubted that an adequate measure of relief might result from enjoining the unfair practices of the terms of sale agreement and from a separation of the business side, but the defendant should have an opportunity to present to the court on the first day of the November term a plan for the abrogation of the illegal monopoly, and an unreasonable restraining interstate trade and commerce for an appeal from this interlocutory decree is taken to the supreme court and this decision is affirmed, such plan to be presented within sixty days from the filing of the mandate."

The bill was filed June 9, 1913, against the Eastman Kodak company of New York, Eastman Kodak company of New York, George Eastman, Henry A. Strong, Walter S. Hubbell and Frank S. Noble, all of Rochester, N. Y. The testimony was taken before Judge Hazel both here and in Rochester, and comprised upward of 2000 printed pages of testimony and three volumes of printed exhibits. It was finally submitted May 15, 1915.

The bill alleged subsequently that from 1902 to 1906 the Eastman company of New York intentionally monopolized the business of manufacturing and selling cameras, plates, photographic paper and film in the United States by limiting the sale of such products to its own company, and by preventing other companies from doing so.

That from 1899 to 1908 all Eastman products were sold by dealers under restrictions and with discounts which stifled competition. In 1908 these discounts were discontinued and subsequently so-called terms of sale were adopted limiting dealers to the handling exclusively of Eastman products under penalty of revocation of the right to deal in any of the Eastman commodities.

The acquisition of properties and enforcement of the terms of sale, it was alleged the defendants acquired the largest percentage of the trade, unlawfully restrained such trade and obtained an illegal monopoly.

The defendants in their answer denied restraining trade or competition or engaging in a monopoly and their status was a result of the creation and development of a superior quality and of the manufacture of a camera in which they were conceded pioneers.

Judge Hazel dismissed the government's claim that the defendants entered into an agreement with the motion picture patents committee were violations of the statute. The court quoted the government for the year 1912 which amounted to $15,633,551.33, or about 171 per cent of total sales of $24,763,407.65 as showing the large disproportion between the cost of manufacture and the price paid by the consumer. It is undisputed, the court held, that the Eastman company controlled approximately 75 per cent or 80 per cent of the entire trade and had accordingly obtained a monopoly.

Financial Crisis Faced by Russia Is Report in Berlin

Berlin, Aug. 24.—Wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—The Vossische Zeitung publishes what purports to be the report of the finance committee of the Russian imperial council at which the financial status of the empire and the outlook were compared. The Overseas News agency says today.

Count Kokovzov (Kakovsky) formerly premier and minister of finance) drew an awkward picture of financial conditions, says the news agency. Its abstract of the Vossische Zeitung's report.

"The last popular loan," he declared, "realized only $200,000,000 instead of a billion." He pointed out that the unlimited issue of paper money would lead to national bankruptcy.

"Finance Minister Bark replied that a foreign loan was out of the question, as France and England would be unable to carry a Russian loan, being themselves in dire financial stress. Paris and London, he said, had promised Russia a new loan only after meeting their own notes."

"Imperial Councillor Professor Osaro declared that Russia faces an immediate financial catastrophe. Nothing was to be expected from her allies, he said, and the only salvation lay in America."

"Political circles consider the meeting as a declaration by Russia of an unavoidable bankruptcy and do not consider that the projected trip of the finance minister to Paris and London will result in a change in the situation."

Mayor Appeals For Aid For Storm Sufferers

To the People of Waco: From reliable information there is great suffering for food and clothing among the people along the coast towns who have lost everything. Galveston seems to have been able to take care of her destitute and suffering, while the people in the smaller towns have no source of relief. A meeting of the general committee appointed at the mass meeting will meet in my office at 3 p. m. today. American and Wells-Fargo Express companies will deliver free to the proper authorities food or clothing. Governor Ferguson, after investigating, appeals for aid; that aid is needed immediately to relieve the suffering. We appeal to you to contribute money, clothing or food.

I am trying to have the money sent to the governor for the food and clothing sent direct to the community. I trust you will make up your mind to do something. The proper party will be designated at the meeting this morning and to receive these contributions.

Very respectfully, J. W. RIGGINS, Mayor.

Responding to Mayor Riggins' appeal to the people of Waco for aid in the shape of food and clothing for the sufferers of the recent storm, along the Gulf coast, several persons yesterday telephoned the mayor for information as to how supplies of clothing might be delivered. Mayor Riggins instructed the inquirers to send the packages to the mayor of the city, who would have them transported free by the express companies.

A meeting of the relief committee appointed at the recent mass meeting to meet in his office yesterday afternoon, was postponed on account of the previously arranged meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and the mayor of Commerce joint executive committee on Brazos navigation, many of whose members are also members of the relief committee. It is probable that the meeting will be arranged for this afternoon.

Following the appeal issued by Governor Ferguson for aid for the sufferers of the storm that swept the Texas coast last week, Mayor Riggins yesterday addressed the following letter to the governor, giving some practical suggestions for conducting the relief measures.

Waco, Texas, Aug. 24, 1915.

His Excellency, Governor J. E. Ferguson, Austin, Texas.

My Dear Sir: Referring to your appeal for help which I think is exceedingly appropriate, I will respectfully suggest:

1st. If possible, you suggest some one in each of the destitute communities to whom clothing or food could be sent. Money should be given to take these things free if agreed to the proper parties.

2nd. Each community be asked to organize and ascertain through these people what is needed at the earliest possible date.

Many people have a surplus of clothing and could send food, but haven't the ready cash to send, and as I understand it, clothing and food are what is badly needed.

Waco is pledged to do her full duty in relieving the suffering of that storm-swept country. There are many people who lived in the small towns, as I understand, who have lost all and we should grant them every possible relief.

Assuring you of my highest consideration, and very respectfully, J. W. RIGGINS, Mayor of Waco.

Governors Express Their Confidence in President Wilson

Boston, Aug. 24.—Resolutions of confidence and support were sent to President Wilson today by governors of nearly a score of states attending the annual conference of governors in this city. These resolutions, introduced by Governor Walsh, said:

"The governors of the several commonwealths of the nation in conference assembled, desire to tender to you an expression of their confidence and support in this hour of deep international concern, and to assure you of their readiness to follow your leadership in all matters which you deem best to promote the honor and maintain the peace and welfare of the nation and the whole people."

A sharp division of opinion manifested itself at the conclusion of addresses by former Governor Wm. H. Mann of Virginia, Governors Robert L. Williams of Oklahoma, and Joseph Alexander of Idaho, and Governor Adams of Colorado took advantage of the opportunity for discussion afforded by the program.

"You would have us drift away from democracy, from the policies of Thomas Jefferson to those of Alexander Hamilton," he stated. "It is an idea entirely contrary to our idea of democracy, the power that belongs to a majority."

Francis H. McGovern, former governor of Wisconsin, in differing with Mr. Adams, said it was the people who were demanding increased power for the governors. He expressed the belief that the governor's power might well be increased without encroaching upon the legislative.

"In speaking his mind Governor Adams of Oklahoma, one of the speakers, urged that a law be enacted making a governor ineligible during his term of office and for six months afterward for reelection or for congress or for state office, so that all temptations for him to use his office for political advancement might be removed."

Couldn't Stand That. New stories of the Civil war are always interesting. Here is one found in an old journal of a southern family: "Among the officers in charge in Houston during the late war was General Griffin."

"A freedman, Pomp," was one day conversing with a general, when he spied his former young master, whom he had not seen since the commencement of hostilities. Pomp ran to him and exclaimed: "God bless you, Mars Charles. I'm mighty glad to see yer. How is de ole missis an' Mars John?"

"After Pomp had finished his demonstration the general said: 'Pomp, you need not call him master now; you are just as good as he is.'"

"What's de Pomp?" "He just as good as Mars Charles?" "No, sah, General Griffin. I may be jes' ex good as you is, but I ain't as good as Mars Charles, no sah." Exchange.

Galveston's First WATER SINCE STORM

TEMPORARY EIGHT-INCH MAIN IS STRUNG ACROSS THE CAUSEWAY.

TANK SLOWLY BEING FILLED

Will Not Be Sufficient to Use Until Noon Today and Then Not to Drink.

Galveston, Aug. 24.—For the first time since the night of August 16, when the tropical hurricane wrecked the Galveston causeway, water was received in the city tonight from the mainland pumping stations. A temporary eight-inch main, strung along the remaining sections of the causeway, was completed late this evening and the pumps set at work. At 8:30 o'clock the stream had reached the local receiving tank and began filling it slowly. It was estimated that it would be noon tomorrow before a sufficient quantity on hand to permit the supply being turned into the city mains. It also will be twelve hours or longer before the water will be in fit condition to be used for drinking purposes, as the pipes are dirty. However, sanitary sewers and cleaning houses and streets, and this, just now, is the pressing need.

Further assurance will be able to take care of its own case with regard to the relief of destitute families. Local business men, at a meeting this morning, authorized the relief committee to take care of all cases needing temporary assistance and stated that plans will be considered later for enabling such families to recoup their fortunes.

The fishing smack, Fortuna I, one of the four boats believed lost at sea with crews of nine men each, made port today safely and with a big catch of fish. The other three boats, all of the storm, but there is now hope that they are afloat.

Twenty-seventh Infantry to Move. Galveston, Aug. 24.—The Twenty-seventh infantry, now at Texas City, will sail for the Philippines between Sept. 5 and 10, according to Lieut. Col. A. W. Kimball, depot quartermaster of the second division. The master of the ship originally was scheduled to depart Aug. 26, but due to the storm, which did considerable damage to the camp of the Twenty-seventh infantry and to the soldiers' equipment, it was decided to delay the date for sailing had to be made.

No damage was done by the storm to the army transport Buford, and this transport will take the regiment to the Philippines as previously arranged. The Buford is now situated at pier 12.

FRENCH PRAISE OF ROOSEVELT. Temps Correspondent Calls "Preparation" That of "A Great Citizen."

The San Francisco correspondent of the Temps compares Colonel Roosevelt's preparation speech with ex-Secretary Bryan's pacifist utterances. Mr. Bryan appears to him to be sincere, but seems to combine the characteristics of an actor and a clergyman. His listeners belonged chiefly to the foreign element which left Europe to avoid military service and expected to find peace in America.

"The America of today," says the correspondent, "is not the America of the secession. For forty years it has been invaded by a horde of immigrants of inferior quality."

Among Bryan's supporters were some high persons pleading peace for fear of losing money.

Roosevelt, the correspondent says, aroused more enthusiasm and evidently present the side of war in order to dissuade Americans from vigorous measures, and that Roosevelt's election as president of the United States might not mean war, but it would mean some form of military service.

The Temps writer says the Colonel is fighting the latest German scheme of preparing his mind for a post-war peace conference from vigorous measures, and that Roosevelt's election as president of the United States might not mean war, but it would mean some form of military service.

"You would have us drift away from democracy, from the policies of Thomas Jefferson to those of Alexander Hamilton," he stated. "It is an idea entirely contrary to our idea of democracy, the power that belongs to a majority."

Mrs. C. A. Richards Tells of the Storm

The following extracts from a letter written by Mrs. C. A. Richardson of Beaumont to friends in Waco give many graphic details of the conditions there during last week's storm:

"It was terrible those three days and a half, Monday to Wednesday's storm, and the floods that followed. I tried to wire that we were safe, but all communications were cut off. Beaumont damage was bad enough, but the deplorable condition of Port Arthur and its citizens is indescribable. When it was going down town Tuesday afternoon I met the mayor of Beaumont and he told me that 'you woman had better be ready to go to work by daylight relieving the flood sufferers the rescue parties'."

Well, they came and are still coming to the tune of something over six thousand souls, whose plight beggars description.

"When the girls read the morning paper they said, 'Go, mamma; we can do much, but we can spare them two rooms and give them food and shelter for a while.' So I went down to headquarters and tendered my services. They came and are still coming to the tune of something over six thousand souls, whose plight beggars description."

So I went down to headquarters and tendered my services. They came and are still coming to the tune of something over six thousand souls, whose plight beggars description."

"When I got home my little woman awoke and was wild for news of her husband and kinfolks and friends, so she insisted upon going to headquarters. By this time people were being brought in by the hundreds, and it was nightfall. Another storm was predicted for 8 o'clock p. m., but thank goodness it did not reach here until midnight. About this time the home committee sent out to me a man, his wife and five children, while a couple came on with their two little ones. I had met, with their two little ones, and two children, who were 'all in,' brought them out and gave them a change of dry clothes, a bath, food and rest; then when I had them at rest I went again to headquarters to help the committee plan out the work of caring for the others."

"The exterior of the house is exactly as it was at the time of Tweed's escape. The boss, who had just been arrested for his part in the escape, was taken to the police station. The house, with its yard and stable, was a beautiful corner of Forty-third street, opposite Temple Emanu-El and covers a plot about 62 by 123 feet. It was saved from the ravages of the storm by Richard T. Wilson, the banker, who bought it from Tweed for $1,200,000."

BETTER ROADS ARE BEING MADE BY NAZARENE MINISTERS WILL MEET IN WACO

Y. M. B. L. DIRECTORS TO CONFER WITH COUNTY COMMISSIONERS' COURT.

DELEGATION WILL GO TO MART

Invitation Received to Attend Hillsboro Fair—Trip to Temple is Abandoned.

Use of every means to speed work on the good roads of Districts 2 and 3 to completion, and arrangement with contractors to provide easily accessible detouring roads when roads are closed for working will be asked of the county commissioners by Y. M. B. L. members of the advisory board named when the $1,075,000 bond issue for roads in these districts which include Waco and West was passed a year ago. A complaint of the condition of the temporary roads which must be used to pass around roads closed for good roads construction was presented to the directors of the Y. M. B. L. at their meeting last night by W. A. Poage. Mr. Poage complained especially of the condition of the Dallas road, now under construction, saying that persons coming into Waco were forced to drive nine miles around part of the road closed. The matter will be taken up with the county commissioners at once by the Y. M. B. L. members of the advisory board, who are W. A. Poage, Crawford and Postmaster W. H. Hoffman.

The complaint presented by Mr. Poage aroused considerable discussion, many of the directors contending that the inconvenience caused by closing the roads could not be avoided. All were of the opinion that easily accessible detouring roads should be provided when a road is closed during construction. The motion to confer with the county commissioners with regard to the matter was made by B. C. Nettles, chairman of the good roads committee of the league.

A rumor that there was a movement on foot among railroad men on the Katy running into Waco to induce the officials to move the caboose track from the Meade across the river, was brought to the attention of the directors by Perry Duncan and referred to the transportation committee for investigation. The committee reported that the caboose track had been moved and making up all train crews from this side of the river would allow more than thirty crews to spend the nights on their run in the city and would probably result in the moving of many families to the city. The possibilities of a jitney service over the new good roads also were referred to the committee for investigation, upon motion of W. W. Naman.

The Giddings trade trip tomorrow and the observation of Hardy Day last night, will be interesting reports and considerable discussion and are presented in another part of this issue of the Morning News.

Plan Membership Campaign.
A one-day membership campaign was decided upon at the meeting last night to be staged on the last day of President Hutchison's administration, September 14. New members signed up during the day will be presented at the general meeting that night. Officers for the next six months will be elected and reports on the membership campaign will be made. Chairman Robert "Bazzer" said last night that his committee would meet within a few days and formulate plans for the campaign.

Y. M. B. L. plans of combating the city with ten teams of five men each would be used.

Waco, Y. M. B. L. will be represented at a delegation, including a speaker on the program for the day, which has been planned for the last day of the year. On account of the fact that the Giddings trade trip has been arranged for the day, the attendance at Mart will not be so large as it would be otherwise. Notice that the I. & G. N. will run a special train to Mart on Friday was given to the league last night by J. W. Byars, district passenger agent of the road here.

Forrest E. Goodman, chairman of the special committee to investigate the reported intention of removing the state school for the blind from Austin and the possibility of obtaining its location in Waco reported that the board of control of the institution had not held a meeting and therefore he had not received a reply to two letters written concerning the matter.

Chairman W. H. Hoffman, of the publicity committee, reported that the Y. M. B. L. sign across Austin avenue, ordered during the day, was then burned, and that the Welcome-to-Waco sign at Fourth and Austin was being repaired and would be lighted within a few days. Mr. Hoffman also reported that Waco had received considerable publicity all day next Friday. He reported seeing comment on the event in St. Louis and other out-of-state papers, as well as many in the state.

F. E. Goodman, chairman of the agricultural committee, to which the plan to offer prizes for the best farm exhibits from McLennan county at the Cotton Palace this fall was referred, reported that he was conferring with the Cotton Palace directors with regard to the matter and would have a complete report at the next meeting.

Nov. 16, Y. M. B. L. Day. C. H. Anderson, chairman of the special committee appointed to arrange for representatives at the Central Texas Home Trade meeting at Temple Friday, reported that the condition of the roads at the present would force abandonment of the trip. He was hopeful that the roads would receive no further rain and would be in shape for the automobile trip by Friday. The matter of sending representatives in view of the circumstances was left in the hands of the committee.

An invitation from H. G. Taylor, secretary of the Hill county fair at Hillsboro, to attend the fair on opening day, Sept. 8, was received. Mr. Taylor promised a fine entertainment, and a representation upon the part of attendance and Hill county with a large attendance at the Cotton Palace on Hill County Day this fall.

Notice that November 16 had been set apart as Y. M. B. L. Day at the Cotton Palace was received by the directors from the Cotton Palace association.

The matter was referred to the civic improvement committee, with instructions to bring in a report at the next meeting of the directors.

W. J. Geisler called the attention of the directors to the fact that a bond election had been called by the city commission to provide funds for building a sewer disposal plant, for extending the sewer system and for building a number of badly needed bridges within the city. The matter was referred to the civic improvement committee, with instructions to bring in a report at the next meeting of the directors.

Sam Sanger Home Again After Stay in New York City

Sam Sanger, head of the firm of Sanger Brothers in Waco, returned yesterday afternoon from a two months' vacation stay in New York. Mr. Sanger left Waco early in June, leaving his business with the firm of Sanger Brothers in the hands of his partner, Mr. Sanger commented little on the effect of the war on business in the east, but expressed a great interest in the intention of recuperating his health, and by newspaper accounts of the probability that Germany intends to prepare for peace.

Mr. Sanger believes that the action of Secretary McAdoo in placing $30,000,000 in the federal reserve banks located in the south to aid in the handling of the cotton crop will go a long way toward solving the problem. Mr. Sanger, however, is of the opinion that a larger amount, at least $100,000,000 will be needed.

EDWIN HOBBS TO TAKE BRIDE ON AUGUST 31
Several invitations have been received in Waco to the wedding of Edwin Hobbs to Miss Sadie Frances Webb at Dallas on August 31. Mr. Hobbs is brother to Lieutenant Governor W. P. Hobbs, former owner of the Morning News, and is cashier of the Security National, one of Dallas' largest banks. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Junius J. Webb, her father being vice president of the Amicable Life Insurance company and the superintendent of agencies. After the wedding the Wobbs will move their residence from Dallas to Waco.

INFORMAL PLEASURE FOR VISITING GIRLS
In order that some of her friends might meet her house guests from Belton, Miss Corinne Quinius invited a small party to Monday evening. It was an informal pleasure, with no chosen diversion, and yet with a gracious hostess and two charming guests. The Misses Bertha Clark and Noema Burkes of Belton were thus introduced to Misses Grace Armer, Clarise Griswold, Messrs. Tom Hawkins, J. D. Doran, Ray Stearns, Lloyd Peyton and Fred Scott.

MRS. MORDIS FALKNER A PLEASANT HOSTESS
In compliance to her sister, Mrs. Thomas Peyton Scott of Dallas, Mrs. Mordis Falkner was hostess to a large box party Monday afternoon at the Hippodrome. The performance was a reproduction of Opie Read's "Yankee From the West," and proved most diverting. Mrs. Falkner passed individual boxes of candy among her guests during the show, and later cream was enjoyed at one of the delightful stores. Those who were privileged this afternoon of pleasure with Mrs. Scott were: Mesdames James Riley, Robert Dupree, J. M. Nash, Joseph Mitchell, E. R. Nash, Jr., Keith Watson, M. A. Baker, A. J. Armstrong, B. M. McReynolds, with the Misses Kate Edmond and Frances Luedde.

THE GLEN ROSE CAMPERS RETURN
The Waco contingent who have enjoyed camp life at Glen Rose returned late in the week. This camp was the initial movement among the Young People's Missionary societies of the Central Texas conference, leading toward the establishment of an annual camping picnic at San Francisco, and was most enjoyable and successful. The session was cut somewhat short by the storm, which occasioned some inconvenience. The camps were pitched in the Daniel auto park, an ideal spot, with a deep flowing well of cold water which is said to be as fine as the water at Carlsbad, Germany. There were in all eight camp cottages, two of which were occupied by the Waco crowd, and which were christened Waco Boosters' Camp and the Red Caps' Camp. These loyal people were real advertisers for Waco while away. On the train they all wore the Cotton Palace red caps and tried to give as much publicity to our fall exposition as possible. Even the deacons, Miss Jackson, discarded her bonnet to don a red cap. The programs were unusually interesting and instructive. Mrs. J. W. Downs, who is fresh from Chicago university, gave the evening verses, lessons in the form of Bible stories, and Miss Jackson of Waco had the main services. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Conway directed the physical training, giving lessons in swimming and other athletic sports. The personnel of the Waco party reads: Mrs. J. W. Wigley, Mrs. J. W. Downs, Mrs. W. L. Perry, Misses Lucile Lee Abbott, Blanche Jackson, Jessie Jackson, Ida Coral Trice, Ethel Jackson, Nellie Lee Hill, Gladys Winchell, Ruth Wilson, Louise Perry and Vannah Davis; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Conway.

Society Notes

Mrs. Anne Rotan Howe of Boston has joined her mother, Mrs. E. Rotan, at Salt Lake City for the California trip.

Dr. and Mrs. Howard Lanham and family, who have been occupying their cottage at Portland for the summer are at home again.

Mrs. D. D. Fairchild of Taylor, who was for many years a resident of Waco, has a cottage in Rockport, where she remains until October 1st.

Miss Nellie Dancy of this city was the honoree at an afternoon bridge party in Corpus Christi on Saturday. Miss Dancy leaves for Seguin within the week.

John D. Mayfield, Jr., is reported to be one of the season's beaux at Corpus Christi. It is the same old story of summer resorts—too many girls for the number of boys.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Winter of Barnard street are leaving Waco with the first of September to make their home in Denison. This week and until their departure they are members of the E. W. household of North Twelfth street.

Friends here have received messages from Miss Elizabeth Doak in El Paso where she has gone for the opening of the city schools the first week in September. Miss Doak is the supervisor of music in the schools and the good wishes of her many Waco friends follow her in her new environments.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Roberts and son, A. R., Jr., send post card greetings from the Grand Canyon. This message says: "This is our first stop on the way to Canada. We had an eight-mile drive on the 'Hermit Rim Road' today. Sunshine going down, clouds coming back, so we enjoyed a view of the canyon both in sunshine and shadow."

The following is from the Houston Post: "The American public is going to stop wiggling and go to dancing," declared Monty Beach on his return from the national convention of dancing masters at San Francisco. "I will now dance a plain one-step, a modest fox trot and the American glide waltz. That is the latest edict of the leaders of the dancing fraternity and will become the rage for all who love the terpsichorean art, says Mr. Beach."

One of the most interesting cases in recent years of precocity in early childhood is that of Winnifred Sackville Storer, Jr., now a girl in her teens. The child's education was begun during the first few months of her life. Her poetical abilities developed so rapidly that she wrote verses for the newspapers at five. In other respects she was equally remarkable. She began to keep a diary at two, and at three had mastered the spelling of common words by the aid of the typewriter, on which she wrote letters to her mother. At the age of five years she could express herself in eight different languages.

Society Personals
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Davis, who have been on the coast for some weeks, are due home today.

Mrs. John B. Poter and daughter, Dora, left Tuesday for a visit to relatives in Cameron.

Miss Winnie Cardwell of North Twelfth street has returned from a visit to friends in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Jessie Gray Smith and son, Will, who have spent several weeks in Fort Davis, are due home with Thursday.

Misses Bertha Clark and Noema Burkes of Belton are guests of Miss Corinne Quinius of Sanger avenue since Saturday.

Mrs. George Berry Graves and son have returned from Valentine and are located with Mrs. Graves' parents, Judge and Mrs. W. H. Jenkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Abbott of Washington, D. C., are with Mrs. H. F. Connelly of West Franklin street. Mr. Abbott has recently undergone an operation for appendicitis in Providence sanitarium.

Mrs. S. A. Rumsey and children, S. A., Jr., Katherine and Elizabeth, of Fort Worth, are the guests of Mrs. T. P. Bryan of Herring avenue. Mr. Rumsey will arrive Friday and spend the week-end.

I. & G. N. Will Run Special Train to the Mart Fair Tomorrow

Waco will be well represented at the opening of the Mart Fair tomorrow. A special train from Waco will bear the party over the International & Great Northern railway leaving here at 11:30 a. m. and returning at 6:30 p. m.

A special rate of 75 cents has been granted for the trip.

The Y. M. B. L. will send one of its best speakers to represent that organization and a large amount of Cotton Palace advertising will be taken for distribution. The big feature of the opening of the day is to be a barbecue dinner on the main street of town, served al fresco.

Festival Is Given by Philathea Class

The entertainment to have been given on the lawn of the Central Christian church last night by the Philathea class was given in the church instead on account of the rain yesterday. Numerous booths had been erected on the lawn, and as the young ladies simply moved inside and had their festival anyway, a good-sized crowd attending.

AMERICAN STYLES FOR AMERICAN WOMEN.

Says the Dallas Evening Journal:

"The Daughters of the American Revolution have inaugurated a movement which should have been started before. At its next session Congress will be asked to appropriate money to establish a fashion center in Washington, for the purpose of creating American styles for American women."

"It is altogether probable that Congress will be concerned with more weighty matters, but it is to be hoped that some other means may be found to put the D. A. R. plan into operation. It would keep American dollars at home and promote styles more individualistic and distinctive, perhaps more sane and attractive."

It is very desirable that American women adopt American styles of dress, but setting such a movement in motion is not the function of the American congress nor any other legislative body. American women should not only follow American styles, but they should insist on American-made goods as largely as possible. The burden of creating the desire for American styles and American goods, however, rests upon the creators of those styles and the manufacturers and distributors of those goods. Congress has other and more important work to do. Incidentally, it would not be a bad idea for American women to insist on American husbands.

Texas manufacturers have organized a movement to place their goods before the people of this state through the columns of the press and otherwise and create a demand for the "Made in Texas" product. Waco manufacturers have launched a local movement on a similar scale. This is the route which the designers of American fashions and the manufacturers of American goods must pursue if they would popularize their product and create a genuine demand for it.

Fort Worth's unemployed have a decided penchant for going after their former employer with a gun, but that laundress who stepped between the lately discharged laundry driver and the proprietor in order to shield the latter from the former's gun, displayed a type of loyalty to her employer that ought to entitle her to a pension for life.

Is it true that Germany is running short of war funds? We hope that not only Germany but England, France, Russia, Austria, Italy, Turkey, Japan, and all the other nations involved in the struggle are exhausting their war finances and that the struggle will soon come to an end from financial if not from moral considerations.

While we are opposed to the creation of additional offices as a general principle the new Greek cabinet has an office that might well be duplicated in this country, minister of national economy. But we would like for the holder of that office to represent more economy of words than the Greek minister, M. Michalakopoulos.

Wacoans have never been charged with the sin of ingratitude. All who love clean sport and winning sport—and we would not have winning sport unless it be clean—should show their appreciation of Hardy and his Navigators by going to the ball game on Hardy Day next Friday. No passes will be honored on that occasion.

SIX PER CENT COTON MONEY.

Mr. McAdoo's decision to place $30,000,000 in gold from the federal treasury in the three federal reserve banks of the South—Richmond, Atlanta and Dallas—loaning this sum without interest to the reserve banks to be loaned by them in turn to the member banks to assist in holding the 1915 cotton crop, or such portions of it as may be necessary, comes as a distinct relief to the present situation. It not only guarantees 6 per cent money for those farmers who want to place their cotton in approved warehouses and insure it, preparatory to holding it for a better price, but the knowledge that the farmers will be able to get money advanced on their cotton at a figure that will enable them to hold it will have the effect of stimulating the market so long as there is any actual demand for the staple.

The secretary of the treasury has made similar movements in the past, looking toward the conservation of the country's crops and their more expeditious handling, so his latest move is not an entirely unexpected one, nor can it be considered as a response to the criticism of the administration who have been declaring President Wilson a traitor to the South and employing other extravagant statements. President Wilson has announced all along that he was going to do all he could to assist in conserving the interests of the South as a result of the critical situation that has confronted this section in the marketing of its principal staple, and those who know the president know that he is a man of his word. But neither the president nor his secretary of the treasury attempts to play politics at the expense of the interests of the people and no one expected either of them to hit upon some high-sounding but impractical method of affording relief to the farmers of this section.

And while broader-minded bankers will welcome the aid which the secretary of the treasury is furnishing them in handling the cotton situation, there will be some who regret the move on the ground that they may find it embarrassing to refuse their other customers 6 per cent money when it is known that the farmers are being so accommodated. And it will not be surprising if the farmers, favored with loans of 6 per cent on their cotton this fall, will want to know why they have to pay all the way from 10 to 50 per cent for money in other periods of the year, as is the case in Texas.

This question can be answered, of course, by Mr. McAdoo's statement that his move is purely an emergency one, made because of the unusual difficulties faced by the cotton farmer in view of that staple being placed upon the list of absolute contraband by England and her allies.

One point which the farmers must bear in mind is that in order to take advantage of this 6 per cent money their cotton must be placed in a properly constructed and bonded warehouse and be adequately insured, and not every marketing point is provided with such a warehouse. But such warehouses can be easily constructed in time to take care of the bulk of the crop if the communities which have none so far will get busy now.

And we would call the attention of the farmers and business men, too, to this reassuring message in the closing paragraph of Mr. McAdoo's statement: "The secretary declared he believed that there was no occasion for alarm about the future of cotton and that if the bankers and merchants would co-operate with each other and with the cotton producers of the South in a spirit of patriotism and mutual regard for each other's welfare, the situation could be handled with happy results to all concerned. He expressed the earnest hope that this would be done."

No direct intimation of as much is given, but we are confident that more than $30,000,000 will be forthcoming from the federal treasury if it is needed.

Citizens of Rusk and Palestine are trying to get the senate investigating committee to include the re-opening of the state iron foundry at Rusk, which is a part of the state penitentiary system's plant, in the recommendations which the committee will make to the legislature. Time was when this industry was operated at a profit and the same business principles employed again would produce a similar result. The more business and the least politics that can be injected into the affairs of the penitentiary system, the better it will be.

"We have been trying vainly to account for the absence from the Plattsburg military camp of such a warlike soul as the Hon. Disgraceful Gardner, of Massachusetts," observes the New Orleans States. Easy. He is the all-wise guy who has been telling the president how to build up the army, but who, when he is needed, is always found somewhere else.

Fort Worth may now advertise herself as "A city with a conscience" inasmuch as the city has just refunded $5.93 in taxes which it has been holding, through an error, for fifteen years.

FORGING AHEAD—A LESSON FOR AMERICANS.

In our contempt of the sinking of the Lusitania, the Gulfight, the Arabia, and other such atrocities committed by the Germans, we are prone to permit our minds to become so beclouded by prejudice that we are unable to see the faults of the enemies of Germany, or what is more essential, the good there is in the Germans.

We have heard a great deal of German efficiency, so much, in fact, that the subject has become commonplace. But we have not been told so much of the optimism and the nerve of Kaiser Wilhelm's people, especially since the war began, and it is to this point in their favor that we wish to call attention, not for the purpose of preaching a sermonette, but in the hope of stimulating Americans to go and do likewise.

A particular instance of the thing in mind is afforded in the example of Berlin, the German capital and metropolis, which in spite of the war, is pushing ahead as if no such thing had occurred. That city has just voted a bond issue of $75,000,000 for public improvements, such as new underground railways, parks, new schools and playgrounds. Such a feat, in the capital of the foremost country in the biggest war in the world's history has never been accomplished before. The upward trend of things in Berlin is just as marked today as it was before the war broke out, according to the words of Adolf Wermuth, chief magistrate, or lord mayor of Berlin.

Commenting upon the determination of his city to keep forging ahead in spite of the war and summarizing what has been accomplished since the war began, Mayor Wermuth says in part: "At the beginning of August, immediately after the outbreak of the war, things looked quite different. It was as if the whole business organization, so to speak, held its breath. But that was merely a momentary pause. Then all at once we got our bearings, and adapted ourselves to the new conditions. And in a few weeks the social organism, public and private, was again in full working order. In the first few days the number of unemployed rose from 20,000 to 66,000, a fact that clearly indicates the confusion that at first prevailed."

"However, we then came to grip the situation. Our motto was to act in every way precisely as before the war. What we had intended to undertake was undertaken as if there were no war and what had already been begun was pushed forward to completion."

"That is where you see the practical working out of our principle—to keep on working at everything as in times of peace. We are building two large underground lines which are to be under municipal control. One crosses the city from north to south under the main artery of traffic, the Friedrichstrasse. Its course is from the suburb of Tegel to Neukölln, our expanding neighbor city."

"The other line runs from Moritz to Treptow. It is also of great importance and is specially noteworthy for the fact that it embodies a brilliant solution of several difficult technical problems. The third great building enterprise concerns Unter den Linden. Here, in the midst of war times, we are carrying out the project which was formulated years ago."

"The tramway lines are to run underground. In the first place, they will travel faster, and in the second place the panorama of our beautiful streets will no longer be defaced."

"In addition to these building operations within the town, there are others on which I do not lay so much stress because they lie beyond the real area of the city itself. The new western harbor of Berlin is a gigantic undertaking of this nature. It is almost complete."

"The greater half of the support for this project, which has cost 400,000,000 marks, has been completed since the war. This harbor is intended to take up the immense traffic created by the Berlin-Stettin canal. This is the so-called great ship canal which, allowing the largest ships to complete the voyage from the Baltic to Berlin, will make the city of Berlin, as it were, a Baltic port."

"A no less important building is the great market hall in the north-west quarter, which will be the largest hall in the world, and will cost 255,000,000 marks."

If Berlin, in the center of the war, can keep pushing to the front in spite of the war, then surely American cities, and Waco is included in the list, have reason to take courage and to be up and doing now as much as here-fore."

On with the census enumeration, the sewage disposal plant, Brazos navigation, the 1915 Cotton Palace and the numerous other things that demand our attention.

A fall garden, planted now, would contribute materially to the serving next fall and winter of that delectable menu of "corn bread, buttermilk and good old turnip greens."

It Ruins Hair to Wash It With Soap

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified coconut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

DIRECTORS MEET AT PARK

Cotton Palace Board Looks Over the Grounds and Outlines More Improvements.

Plans for the 1915 Cotton Palace took even more definite shape yesterday morning when the directors of the Cotton Palace association met on the grounds and looked over the situation. Mrs. W. O. Wilkes, general chairman of the women's department, also had a meeting in the main building with her committees and assigned space for the different divisions.

The directors were enthusiastic over the prospects for a fine exposition this year, and decided on several more improvements. Rest rooms will be placed on the grounds, equipped with all conveniences. The stock barns will be whitewashed, concrete wash racks will be installed and a feed store will be erected for the convenience of the livestock exhibitors. Instructions were given yesterday that all trees be removed from the site of the new grandstand, just back of the roller coaster, and from the athletic field in front of it. The field will be smoothed so as to put it in shape for the football games and other features to be staged in the open. Bids will be opened for the construction of the new grandstand on Monday, September 6, the plans and specifications having been drawn up by Milton W. Scott & Co. Work on the race track is proceeding in satisfactory manner. Vice President John E. Wright presided in the absence of President Asher Sanger and almost all of the directors were present.

By Telling How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Miami, Okla.—"I had a female trouble and weakness that annoyed me continually. I tried doctors and all kinds of medicine for several years but was not cured until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I hope my testimonial will help other suffering women to try your wonderful medicine."—Mrs. M. R. MILLER, Box 234, Commerce, Okla.

Another Woman who has Found Health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lindsborg, Kansas.—"Some years ago I suffered with terrible pains in my side which I thought were inflammation, also with a bearing down pain, backache, and I was at times awfully nervous. I took three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now enjoying good health. I will be glad to recommend your medicine to any woman suffering with female trouble and you may publish this letter."—Mrs. A. L. SMITH, R. No. 3, Box 60, Lindsborg, Kansas.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

WARNING IS GIVEN BY MAYOR RIGGINS AS TO USE OF GAS

The approach of winter which has brought a marked increase in the installation of natural gas fixtures, makes pointed the following warning from Mayor Riggins with regard to installation and use of natural gas.

Warning to the Citizens of Waco.

First—Do not allow a gas meter to be put in your bedroom or where the escaping gas might reach your bedroom.

Second—Before any plumbing work or changes are made in or about your dwelling, the plumber must show a permit from the building inspector, Mr. Sam Herbert.

Third—All work before being finally settled for should be protected by the building showing a certificate from the building inspector.

The reasons for this are as follows: Many people in Waco will burn natural gas this winter for cooking and heating. Some have supposed that the natural gas would not have the same effect upon health as artificial gas. This is not true.

Meters which more often leak than any other part of the gas fixtures or plumbing in your house if not properly installed may be fatal to your health and you cannot safeguard against these too carefully.

It has come to my attention that a plumber a few days ago left open one end of a pipe and if the gas had been turned on it likely would have caused the death of the members of the family, therefore, it is of great importance that the inspector put a tester on the plumbing work before it is received to avoid any defects or leaks.

I trust this will be appreciated and that you will act accordingly, as it is to your interest.

Yours respectfully,
J. W. RIGGINS,
Mayor.

Critics say that the vampire actress is at her best in this play. The following is the story of the play:
Lady Audley crumpled up the letter her husband had given her to read. It had come at last. After years of contentment and happiness, a ghost of the past had arisen to destroy her peace.Several years before she had married the son of a wealthy farmer, who had disinherited his son for marrying against his wishes. The young husband later went to Australia in an attempt to make a fortune, leaving his wife.Alone, destitute, she accepted the proposal of Lord Audley, who did not know that she had been married before. Now, after years of comparative happiness, her husband hands her a note from his nephew, telling that he was bringing with him a man who had been her husband, the man from whom she had not heard for so long.She sees her chance for happiness fading rapidly.What should she do? What could she do?The answer forms one of the most dramatic climaxes ever thrown on the screen, and affords Theda Bara, the famous vampire woman, full scope for her wonderful powers of dramatic and emotional expression.HIPPODROME.*"The Chalice of Courage."Strength and dramatic power in "The Chalice of Courage" are nearly immeasurable as shown in the picture playing at the Hippodrome today and tomorrow.Cyrus Townsend Brady utilized a keen portrayal of human emotions as a foundation for "The Chalice of Courage," one of the most potent of the Vitagraph's Blue Ribbon Features yet released through the V. L. S. E. Seldom do films act so upon their audiences as does this wonderful photoplay by reason of its human theme, a theme realistic and effective.As the nucleus for the major plot is given a man, Newbold who, when his wife is mortally injured by a terrific fall, has the strength and courage to kill her at her own request. Later, the dead woman's old lover becomes passionately fond of another girl.
This girl becomes lost in the mountains, is found and cared for throughout the long winter by Newbold. A sacred love springs up between them, but for three months they live as brother and sister, fighting, each in their own way, to live according to the traditions. At length the lover appears and is recognized by Newbold as the man undeniably responsible, although in an indirect way, as the cause of his wife's death. After a terrific battle, in which outside interference saves the man's life, he shortly afterwards goes out in the snow and commits suicide, leaving the old enemy and the girl he loves to live together, their union being sanctioned by the girl's father.Situations unusual in photoplays are ever present in "The Chalice of Courage," situations that are of enormous appeal. Their strength and dramatic power are nearly immeasurable, their effect on the spectator are awe-inspiring. The scenes of the picture are laid in the expansive mountains of the west, exceptional scenes having been taken in the very heart of the untouched country. Photographically, the picture is a supreme achievement, every setting being ideal for the story.Rollin S. Sturgeon, who produced "The Chalice of Courage," demonstrated his ability as a masterly director in the handling of this film. Of the cast, each player is satisfyingly successful in the fulfillment of his duty. William Duncan appears as Newbold, Natalie De London as his wife, George Holt as the other man, Myrtle Gonzales as the girl, besides
George Kunkel, William V. Ranous, Otto Lederer and Anne Schaefer, is exceptional parts.AT THE NICKEL TODAY.*"The Goddess."Synopsis of chapter eight: Celestia's fame had now spread to such an extent among the poor that Barclay and Stilliter decide in time to try her effect on the rich and efficient.
A meeting is held of leading men of affairs, and Stilliter tells them of his experiments in hypnotism. Kehr, the coal baron, sneers at the subject and Stilliter giving him the crystal to look at, gradually puts him in a trance.
While in this condition, the professor directs Kehr, who was famed for his closeness in money matters, to sign an I. O. U. in favor of Stilliter for a million dollars, and also compels him to distribute among those present the money he had with him. Stilliter then destroys the I. O. U. Celestia enters, explains her great mission, and appeals for funds.Barclay leads them in pledging their support. Last of all Kehr falls in line.
Barclay informs the latter that they will run him as senator from Pennsylvania, and cynically remarks: "You'll do as you're told."That so great and influential a man as Barclay should lend the promise of his backing to the doctrines and tenets of Celestia aroused extraordinary interest all over the country, and even in England and on the continent.
Her fame spread rapidly and hundreds of thousands flocked to her standard.

MARKET REPORT

WHEAT

Chicago, Aug. 24.—A sharp recession today in the final hour carried wheat to the lowest point of the day, but there was a partial rally and the market closed at a net loss of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ with September at 99 1/2¢ and December at 97 1/2¢.

Corn weakened with wheat in the September option, but a buying spurt sent December up a little. The closing figures being 1/2¢ higher to 1/4¢ lower, with September at 73 1/2¢ and December 63 1/2¢. Oats dropped to a net loss of 1/2¢ and provisions lost 1 1/2¢ to 2¢.

Considerable spirit was injected into the wheat market early in the session by reports of frost on the sides of the Canadian lake. This carried values up sharply and brought out a large covering movement. On the advance some of the big houses sold heavily and prices tumbled.

Corn, after opening firm, lost tone in sympathy with wheat, but September was the chief sufferer.

Oats grew heavy, the chief weakening influence being the easing off in the price of other grains.

Provisions suffered because hog receipts were larger than the demand. Other ranges as follows on local exchange:

Is this a clue to Point 7?

How gum benefits the teeth

DENTAL research has found that only 1.2% of the Maoris of New Zealand have any decay of teeth. Next come the Esquimaux, only 1.4% of those examined having teeth unsound. Third rank certain tribes of Canadian Indians.

Some years ago the British Dental Association examined the teeth of 10,500 English school children. 86% had some decay of the teeth!

Why? From leading dental authorities we get this answer:

Races having the best teeth chew foods which excite the salivary glands. The Maori flavors food with the juice of the tutu-berry—a keen exciter of the salivary flow. The Canadian Indian chews wood of the sugar pine.

The human saliva is endorsed by these same authorities as Nature's own mouth wash—the best conservator of the teeth—best since man began.

In encouraging a normal flow of saliva, the clean, pure Sterling Gum brings distinct aid to the health of the teeth.

It acts against what dentists call "oral (mouth) stagnation."

The importance of this fact may lead you to suppose it the 7th Sterling point—but no; that 7th point is still as much a mystery as ever.

GOOD RECORD MADE FOR JULY TERM OF
THE COUNTY COURT

More than 200 cases were disposed of during the July term of the county court, which closed last Saturday. According to the records of Court Clerk Frank M. Fitzpatrick, 112 civil cases were disposed of, 65 criminal cases tried, with 59 convictions and 6 acquittals, 12 juvenile cases tried, 15 wills probated and 60 probate orders granted. County Judge George N. Denton has worked the criminal docket down to where there are probably fewer old cases yet to be tried than at almost any time in the history of the county.

"Nobby Treads" Give Longest Mileage
on this Hard Working Car

Under very heavy loads, this rough-and-tumble utility car of the C. T. Sherer Company, of Worcester, Mass., does hard work the year round. "Nobby Tread" tires have been found to give the greatest mileage, and protection against skidding, and to withstand rough roads even when the car is loaded with engines, pumps, heating outfits, radiators, etc.

Six-bit Wine Costs
West Negro Total of More Than $25

The price of wine went up yesterday, according to Dock Pearce's experience. Dock is a West negro, and he entered a plea of guilty in the county court to theft of a bottle of wine from J. B. Ring. Had he bought the wine it would have cost him 75 cents, as it was he fined $1 and given an hour in jail.

But the dollar wasn't all it cost Pearce. Not by any means, for a dollar fine carries with it the costs in the case, which amounted to about $25. That is one reason the fines do not look any bigger in the county court, each one carries the costs with it.

For Freckled, Tanned
Red or Wrinkled Skin

Just beneath that freckled, tanned or reddened complexion there's an exquisite beauty of youthful tint and delicacy. If you could only bring this complexion to the surface, discarding the discolored one! You can—in the easiest, simplest, most natural manner imaginable. Just get at any drugstore an ounce of ordinary mercurized wax, apply nightly like cold cream, removing it mornings with warm water. The wax assists Nature by gradually peeling off the lingering particles of scorched and half-dead surface skin, causing no discomfort whatever. Cutaneous defects like pimples, blotches, liver spots, moth patches, freckles of course, disappear with the old skin. Nothing else will accomplish such wonderful results in so short a time.

Fine lines and even deeper wrinkles often appear at this season, in such cases nothing is better than a face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in 1 pt. witch hazel. This is remarkably effective.

Waco Woodmen Go to Encampment at Dallas This Morning

S. J. Flood leaves this morning for Dallas to attend the state encampment of the Uniform Rank Woodmen of the World. Other prominent Woodmen of the city and a number from the Waco company Uniform Rank W. O. W. will also attend. Mr. Flood, who is chairman of the committee having charge the arrangements for Woodmen day at the Cotton Palace this fall, will carry with him a large quantity of Cotton Palace literature, and especially that bearing on Woodmen day to be distributed among the 5000 Woodmen present at the state encampment at Dallas in the effort to induce every man to come to Waco on Woodmen day during the Cotton Palace this fall.

Woodmen day last year was one of the most successful of the many special days of the exposition. Several thousand Woodmen were present, and through the streets and the manual contests on the grounds following were among the most spectacular of the Cotton Palace features. Preparations are being made for an even larger attendance this fall, and handsome prizes have been offered this year as last for the drill contests.

THIRD TRADE TRIP
OF YEAR TOMORROW TO MANAGER HARDY

AMPLE ENTERTAINMENT PROM-ISED EXCURSIONISTS BETWEEN HERE AND GIDDINGS.

WATERMELONS AT ROSEBUD

Sparring Contest to Be One of Features at Burlington—Dinner Will Be Served at Cameron.

Ample entertainment is promised the trade envoys of Waco who make the third trade trip of the season over the San Antonio & Aransas Pass south to Giddings tomorrow. President J. J. Hutchison yesterday received a long distance call from Mayor Z. A. Booth of Rosebud, stating that that city would welcome the boosters with a large crowd at the depot and would regale them with a watermelon feast. Rosebud will be reached at 10:15 tomorrow morning, and a stop of 40 minutes will be made. The watermelons will be welcome, as the schedule calls for six stops before Rosebud is reached and six parades in the sun are calculated to make watermelons especially welcome.

A letter was also received by President Hutchison last week from Mayor O. R. Porterfield of Lott stating that that city would welcome the visitors with open arms. At Burlington a sparring contest will be the feature of the entertainment. Ladies of the Methodist church will serve dinner to the trippers at Cameron, which will be reached at 12:11. Supper at Giddings will be served by the ladies of the Presbyterian church.

A special train will be run for the exclusive use of the boosters from Waco. Leaving Waco at 7:34 tomorrow morning, the special will reach Cameron, where the dinner stop will be made at 12:11. Giddings will be reached at 5:06, and the start on the return trip home will be made at 6:45. The train will reach Waco on the return at 10:45.

The country to be traversed is among the most productive penetrated by any of the trade trips up to the present time, and is very productive of trade for Waco merchants. The trip will be in charge of General Chairman Frank J. Trau of the trade trippers committee. Other members of the committee are W. H. Hoffmann, music; S. B. Price, refreshments; W. V. Crawford, publicity; A. G. Steele, treasurer. Alessandro's band will accompany the trippers, and Chief of Police Guy McNamara has detailed a squad of five to lead the parades. The white-labeled policemen at the head of the lines of red-barked marchers is one of the most pleasing features of the parades that are staged in each town along the route, where a long enough stop is made.

The fourth and last trip of the season will be made on September 9, according to the announcement made at the meeting of the Y. M. B. L. directors last night by Mr. Trau. The route and destination of the last trip has not yet been determined.

Following is the schedule for the boosters' special tomorrow:

Y. M. B. L. DIRECTORS WORK OUT
DETAILS FOR BASEBALL CELE-BRATION FRIDAY.

BUSINESS HOUSES TO CLOSE

Committees Turn in List of 143 Firms Agreeing to Give Holiday for Occasion.

Developing further the program for Hardy Day next Friday, when all Waco will do honor to the gallant Skipper and his crew of Navigators who have held Waco near the top in the Texas league pennant race for the last several years and who are this year bringing the pennant home with one of the greatest baseball clubs of Texas league history, the directors of the Young Men's Business League last night voted to present to Manager Hardy as an especial token of appreciation of his efforts and ability, some suitable memento of substantial value, the nature of the article to be decided by the Hardy committee which has in charge the arrangements for observation of the day. Fifteen directors present agreed to pay $1 each for box seats in addition to the regular admission price for the game Friday and to attend the game in a body. The remembrance which will be selected by the Hardy Day committee will be presented to the Waco leader just before the game begins.

Music for the occasion will be furnished free of charge by the Waco Musicians' union, according to the announcement made by W. V. Crawford, a member of the committee, reporting at the meeting last night in the absence of Chairman C. P. Link. President J. J. Hutchison of the Y. M. B. L. reported that ten teams working during the afternoon yesterday, following a noon luncheon in the league rooms, had obtained signatures to the agreement to close business houses at 4 o'clock Friday to insure that the town would be closed for the game. The agreements turned in by the teams yesterday afternoon after a few hours' work, have 143 names. Not Even Standing Room Yesterday at
the Queen Theatre

When the Queen theatre opened yesterday morning the sidewalks in front and for several doors to each side of the popular playhouse were crowded with men and women, waiting for admission. The attraction was Miss Marguerite Clark, one of Waco's favorite actresses, in "Hello, Hello, Hello." This little actress has always been popular here, but this is the first time that "standing room only" was gone one better, for there was not even standing room at the first performance and many had to wait for later ones.
